

ANGELICA

Italian Rosé Wine

Production area: ITALY

Alcohol content: 12% Vol.

Grapes: RED GRAPES BLEND

VINIFICATION

This Rosé is made with the traditional skin contact method: during the fermentation the grape skins are left in contact with the pressed juice until our winemaker is happy with the color (light salmon pink). The wine is then transferred to another tank to finish the fermentation process. This classic method combines the fragrant scents of a white wine and the elegant freshness of a young red wine.

Taste: Notes of tangerine zest and watermelon with a hint of sweet white flowers and a crystalline minerality to round out the taste profile.
